

The Pow Wow

VOL. XIV

TYLER JUNIOR COLLEGE, TYLER, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 30, 1950

NO. 6

Western Dance Saturday At Freshman Dude Ranch

By POLLY BOTHWELL
Grab your pardner and off we'll go to the Western Dance at

Creative Writers Study Short Story Composition

The Creative Writers Club met in room 200 at 10:20, November 23. The meeting was called to order by Tommy Maloan, president. The secretary, Charlotte Greisser read the minutes. The minutes were left as were with the exception of one correction made by Miss Parsons. Last week pen names were submitted to Miss Parsons by the members. All pen names were not handed in, therefore they may be handed in anytime this week. The president turned the meeting over to Miss Parsons. Miss Parsons brought to the club's attention a test that was being sponsored by Cabell's Food Store here in Tyler. The contest is a jingle writing contest, the prize being a turkey. The second matter brought up was the contest sponsored by the magazine "Tomorrow." This contest is a short story contest and is open to any college student. Miss Parsons read to the group several sentences submitted by the members. These sentences showed the Freshman Dude Ranch (to all you city slickers—the Tepee), Saturday night.

Everyone put on his best western outfit, grab your "bested" gal and rush on down at the bodacious hour of 8:00 til—well by cracky, who knows! (or cares)! One request: Everbody check them six shooters at the door and go easy on that cactus juice (cokes, pardner, cokes!)

TJC Chorus Makes First Appearance In Lindale

The first public performance of the Tyler Junior College chorus was Tuesday at noon at the Lindale Rotary club luncheon.

the passing of time and descriptions of settings.

Miss Parsons' next gave to the group material concerning the short story. The first suggestion she made was one concerning material. Material for short stories should be material very familiar to the author.

Before the next meeting the group will write sentences describing a person without the use of any adjectives.

The meeting was brought to a close at 11:15.

TJC To Present Card Stunts For First Time Next Saturday Night At Texas Rose Bowl

If you have gotten this far in reading this story, please read it through, because it is of the utmost importance to all TJC students, present and future. Perhaps some of you have heard about our putting on card stunts for the Texas Rose Bowl game. For the details about these stunts we are going to reprint Jim Dean's column from last Thursday's Tyler paper. We do not always agree with Mr. Dean and his views but this is one time that we are highly in favor of what he has written. His column follows with our comments of more recent information following it:

"Tyler Junior College has a chance to be first in something which could be a very good deal in the future.

"They can be the first junior college in the Southwest to successfully stage card stunts at the football games their Apaches will play in the years to come.

"If arrangements can be completed, a group of students from Southern Methodist University will come to Tyler, December 9, to help TJC students put on a show of card stunts during the half-time of the Texas Rose Bowl Game. After the students see how it is done, and if they like the idea, they can develop a system of their own to use in following years.

"As a matter of fact, most of the card stunts are so designed to carry on the theme of activity being conducted by a band or drill team.

"The SMU students are very proud of their accomplishments with the cards. They are the first to successfully conduct card stunts in the Southwest. Other schools will be taking it up now.

"Even though a school is not the first with something, it need not boycott a good idea.

"Next year the University of Texas will put on card stunts. And by the way, Billy Bob Bates of Tyler, former TJC student, will be directing that activity at Austin.

"It seems to me that Tyler Junior College could well use some activity such as this to help get the kids organized better as a unit. This will be something in which they can all take part and enjoy.

"Students can do anything and everything with those cards. They are not set for any particular school. The same colors, and there are eight in all which are handled by each student in the section, can be so arranged to make all sorts of designs.

"I mention SMU in this column because that school has been the only one to perform the stunts in this area, and their stunts naturally have depicted things about their school.

"If things work out in time and the card deal can be arranged for Tyler, the stunts we will see December 9 will be about Tyler Junior College with possibly a Hello to the visiting team in that school's colors.

"There is no end to the things that can be done with the cards. It just depends upon how much interest the students take in their school and in this particular phase of student activity.

"I think Tyler Junior College is extremely fortunate to have an opportunity to get this first hand experience with a new idea.

"It would be fine for Apache-land to get the jump on you know who for next year."

Well, the arrangements have been made and the SMU committee—forty of them, complete with a one-ton truck of equipment—are coming down to work with us on these stunts. They are going to plan the stunts and all we have to do is to be interested and to participate.

The only sacrifices are that the students must sit in one blocked off section and must wait until after the half to leave their seats for refreshments.

Last Days For Yearbook Pictures Are Today, Tomorrow Until 3 P.M.

Tomorrow will be the last day for having pictures made for the 1951 Apache yearbook, Mr. Edwin Fowler, yearbook sponsor announced early this week.

Pictures have been taken from nine until three on each day since Tuesday and are to continue to be made all day today and tomorrow.

The price of the pictures this year has been reduced to 65 cents which covers two different poses, one to be given to the Apache staff for use in the annual.

First Symphony Concert Presented Last Tuesday

Some 1700 East Texans filled Tyler's high school auditorium nearly to capacity Tuesday night for the first fall concert by the East Texas Regional Symphony Orchestra.

The 75 musicians were greeted by warm applause as they presented a program which skipped lightly over four centuries. Selections from 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th century composers were played.

The program included the southwestern premiere of a symbolic poem by Joseph Kirschbaum, conductor of the orchestra. Entitled "Ode to Nature", the composition is a musical paraphrase of a poem by Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Walter Hendl, pianist-conductor of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, was guest soloist for the evening, playing Edvard Grieg's concerto in A minor.

"Suite for Strings" by Henry Purcell, Mozart's symphony in G minor and the Hungarian march from "The Damnation of Faust" by Hector Berlioz completed the program. Hendl, 33-year-old conductor began playing the piano in 1933, and when he was 18 won the New Jersey State Music contest.

He won several scholarships and his career progressed rapidly, delayed only by two years in the army. Upon his discharge, he conducted the Boston "Pops" Orchestra as a guest and was piano soloist with the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

Apache Football Squad, Apaches Belles Are Guests Of Tyler Kiwanis Club At Annual Banquet Monday

Tyler Kiwanians gave their annual banquet Monday night for the Tyler Junior College football team and Apache Belles at the Blackstone Hotel. The principal address was delivered by Rev. John Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

President Billy Caruthers opened the program by introducing the guests. Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Pinkerton were the first to be introduced. Among the others introduced were F. G. Swanson, Bill Heller, and Ellis Samaha of Baton Rouge, the brother-in-law of Bobby Manziel, president of the Tyler Quarterback Club.

Arthur Squyres acting as toastmaster then introduced Mrs. Mildred Stringer. Mrs. Mildred Stringer introduced the Apache Belles and spoke in complimentary terms of their scholastic work as well as their practice for the skits they performed at the football games and various functions. She told briefly of the plans for an appearance of the Apache Belles in the Sugar Bowl, come New Year's Day.

Following Mrs. Stringer's message, Coach Floyd Wagstaff was introduced. He in turn introduced most of the members of the football team individually. Coach Wagstaff had something good to say of every boy on the squad. He also lauded the Kiwanis Club for what the organization has done for the athletic department at Tyler Junior College.

Wagstaff praised the Apache Belles, declaring the football team was proud of everyone of them. He concluded by introducing Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hallmark and Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Flanakin. Hallmark and Flanakin are assistant coaches at TJC.

The Kiwanis quarter, composed of Dean Edward Potter of TJC, Lauren Sprunger, Rev. O. W. Borner and Harold Stringer, sang several numbers, after which Bobby Manziel told how the Quarterback Club was doing all in its power to promote athletics at TJC.

Rev. John Anderson spoke briefly on the subject "Selling Yourself Short." He told several humorous stories to illustrate his points. He told the football boys that life was just like a football game "if you don't start right in a game you are going to meet with grief, pain and lopsided scores." So it is with life, he said. "If you don't start right, you are sure to meet with grief and a rough and rugged path."

MUSIC, MAESTRO, PLEASE—TJC's 1950 chorus has greatly increased in quantity and quality this year. They have a well-rounded program for the school year ahead. This group may be heard every Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. over radio station KTBB.

Members of the chorus are: Betty Dunn, Fontaine Zipf, Hazel Wheeler, LaNell

Reeves, Marilyn Pope, Jean Hill, Patsy Davis, Claire McGee, Mary Hill, Alice Ward, Lucie Stanford, Nina Reed, June Kenzie, Nelda Berryhill, Ann Lynn Sadler, Sue Hawk, Phyllis Carson, Anna Jones, Robert McCollum, Jimmy Copeland, Delmar O'Dell, Mona Jo Phillips, Aldena Barton, Harlan Hall, Billy Denton, and Curtis Birtcher.

EX-APACHES

By MONA JO PHILLIPS

Ex-students are at various places; some at home, some in college, and others are working.

Bobby Calloway, who was majoring in industrial art is working for Hudson Engineering Company in Kermit. Bobby is from Van.

Bobby Castal is now at Texas Tech, but he plans to return to Tyler Junior College in the Spring semester. Bobby is from Mineola.

Betty Patton is now at East Texas Baptist College. Betty is majoring in Education. She was a B.S.U. member.

Helen Rice from Winona is majoring in English. B.S.U. vice president and a member of Phi Theta Kappa were the clubs of which Helen was a member. Helen is now at Marshall.

Marian Harris, B.S.U. devotional vice-president, is studying to be a minister. Marian is now at Baylor.

Mary Helen Walker of Tyler was the Homecoming Queen last year. Mary Helen, majoring in Business, is married and living here in Tyler.

One of the A&M students from Tyler is Wayne Blewett. Wayne, an ex-Apache, was a member of the Kappa Sigma Lambda.

A Business student from Canton, Emily Singleton is now working for Maxine Dress Shop here in Tyler.

Engineering student, Bill Grubbs has chosen SMU to complete his studies. Bill is from Canton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holland are now living in Fort Worth. They were married two weeks ago and honeymooned in Arizona and New Mexico. Mrs. Holland is the former Ada Nell Clark, a graduate of Tyler High and TJC. She was a pre-Med student and a member of AKK, To-Kalon sorority, Laci Phi Lambda Sorority, Apache Belles, and TJC chorus. Bill was a student at TJC in 1948-49.

Deft Definitions

Press Agent—A man who hitches his bragging to a star.

Egotism—A case of mistaken nonentity.

Oratory—The art of making deep noises from the chest sound like important messages from the brain.

Flirt—A man who believes that it's every woman for himself.

Punctuality—The art of guessing correctly how late the other party is going to be.

Budget—A method of worrying before you spend, as well as afterwards.

Meteorologist—A man who can look into a girl's eyes and tell whether.

Throw Rug—A small rug that usually throws anyone who steps on it.

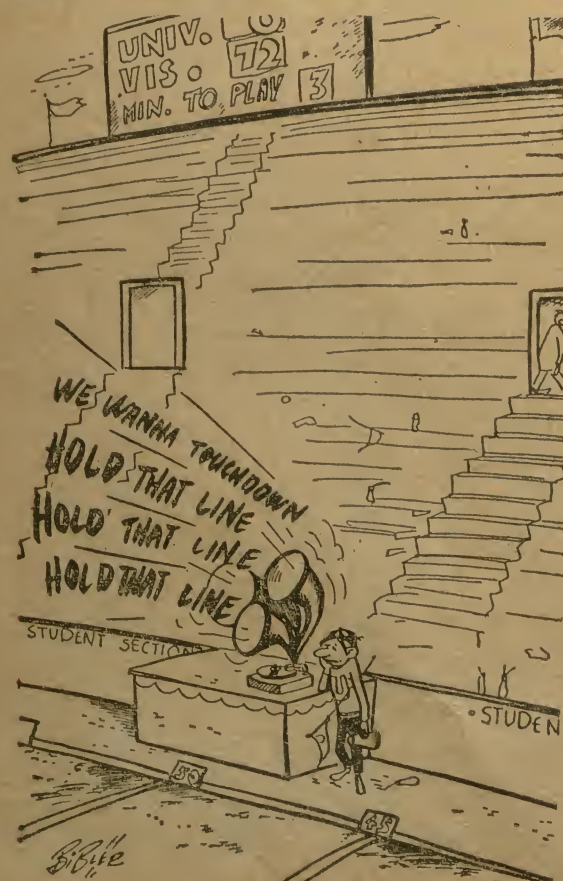

Etiquette—Learning to yawn with your mouth closed.

Poise—The art of raising the eyebrow instead of the roof.

Conscience—The still small voice that makes you feel still smaller.

Little Man On Campus

by Bibler

Sportscast Announcement: Ladies and Gentlemen! Such sportsmanship! Even in the last few minutes, Old University won't give up—In the background you hear . . .

Thanks, Team

Conference football games are over and TJC is once again on top. Tomorrow night they will meet Compton Junior College from Compton, California, and next week they will be host in the Texas Rose Bowl game. But the conference schedule is now history.

This year saw our team in a new conference, the Big Six, where competition is greater. They've met new foes from Louisiana and Oklahoma, besides playing big name teams from other parts of the nation and Mexico City.

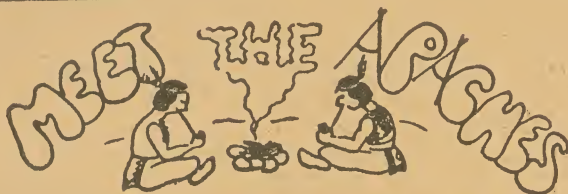

TJC is very proud of the team as a whole and each player individually. Our congratulations and thanks to them for bringing honor to our school by their grand record.

We especially want to thank the coaching staff, who have done a great job in perfecting the ability of the team. We couldn't ask for harder workers than Coaches Wagstaff, Hallmark, and Flanakin.

School spirit, too, has aided in victory. Almost everyone has helped by participating in the activities planned to help make our boys really want to win.

But just because we have won conference let's not slack up now, for we have two more important ball games to win.

Let's show the team how much we really appreciate them by backing them the rest of the season although our conference rating is already established.

By ANN LYNN SADLER

This week, instead of a mere student, our personality is Mr. Wiley W. Jenkins, teacher of American History (and by his request, keeper of the teepee). Everyone who is fortunate enough to have Mr. Jenkins for a teacher will agree that he is among their favorites. Not only does he teach American History, but also a little of everything that is in existence. He particularly likes to give his students his happy philosophy of life.

Mr. Jenkins is a native of Mississippi. Because Mr. Jenkins will receive his doctor's degree in June from the University of Texas, you may rest assured he has many years of education behind him. His first two years in college work were spent at Ohio State University. Then he went to the University of Mississippi for two years. His first year of graduate work was done at the University of Missouri. The past four years have kept Mr. Jenkins busy at his doctor's degree at Texas University, (his favorite of all his schools.)

Mr. Jenkins has taught at Beaumont; Pasagoula, Miss.; Mossport, Miss.; Lake, Miss.; and the University of Texas. He also taught in the army several years.

Mr. Jenkins is a world traveler, having traveled in England, France, Scotland, Italy, and Ireland. He has sailed all over the North Atlantic Ocean.

It is true, Mr. Jenkins has quite an intellectual background and because of this, he has developed a very well-rounded personality. He is a proud husband and a very proud father of two children. Besides being interested in his family and his work, he is also interested in sports (especially T.J.C. sports), books, and his church—the Baptist Church.

All who would like to enjoy American History in college be sure to sign up for Mr. Jenkins—not only will he help you to enjoy history, but also college life in general.

Life Of Alien Teacher -Professor Fodorski Told In Book By Taylor

By RUTH TIPPIT

In the book Professor Fodorski by Robert Lewis Taylor, the experiences of an immigrant college professor, Professor Fodorski, are portrayed. Landing in New York, the professor runs into many hilarious difficulties trying to adjust to the American customs and English language. As the story progresses, Fodorski finds himself a substitute in a small, southern Baptist College. There this stumbling foreigner develops an outlandish interest in football with varied results. As an assistant coach of the football team, appointed by the team, Fodorski helps solve many problems. The following selection is taken from Chapter 12.

"It may be necessary to use a slide rule," said Professor Fodorski, speaking in the early dawn of the No. 3 practice field.

"Distance is no problem, it seems," said Bricker. "I can get distance but the angles bother me."

"The case is somewhat the reverse of that of one of the famous pool champions. I saw in your New Yorker magazine where he was unable to work from the inset markers on the table, and so mysteriously sizes up things in his head. For your part, you will go by markers. A kind of football diamond system."

"All well and good," said Bricker, "but I can't do these things in two seconds in my head. I need pencil and paper."

"I will consult the rule book," said Fodorski, "though I doubt if allowance is made to stop the game for computing sums. And on a rainy day —"

"It'd be messy," agreed Bricker.

"Try it once more. Say you were on the twenty-eight yard line, nine yards in from the sideline. Field is north and south and a six-knot wind is blowing south-southeast. The goal feet, as we know, is ten feet, six inches —"

Bricker groaned and held his hands to his head.

"No job for a mathematics trained engineer," said the professor encouragingly.

"Well, the sine of the first angle, the distance angle, involves the height of the crossbar and—damn it, I can't do it without machinery."

"Very well. We must use the slide rule. Are you rapid with this instrument?"

"You give me your great-grandmother's age and I'll tell you what she liked for breakfast and how many pairs of socks she owned within eight seconds."

"So. This is our only course if the task is to be done right. She was partial to bananas and cracked wheat," Fodorski added.

It was evening, almost in darkness, they gathered to make a few dry runs. "It is best that we not be seen at this stage," the professor told him, and he continued with "Ball's on the thirty-two, six yards in from the left, wind 2.3 knots—" and so forth, the first of a series of hypothetical cases which Bricker, slide rule in hand, solved with methodical ease. At the conclusion of each, Fodorski held the ball and the boy sent it flying toward the goal post under dispute. His aim, even at this infant point in his development, was exceptional, but the power that went into the efforts was awesome. On two different occasions, they were obliged to hunt the ball out of neighboring back yards, on one of these, the professor having stumbled over an incinerator, he narrowly escaped being pinked by a BB."

By POLLY BOTHWELL and VIRGIE BARR
Posey Lambert is one of the best fellows I know, but we still can't understand or see the reason why he is called "Puny" Lambert. Can one see the connection?

Young love on our campus—Sue Hawk and man Wright.

Kenneth Shobe played football about as anyone during the Kilgore game. He was on the side of the field every minute of the game, even played water boy. We're for you, Kenneth, all the way.

The week of the Kilgore game and the giving holidays haven't helped interest in have they members of the faculty?

Our many thanks to all who helped with the activities during the week of the game. People helped outside of the school our thanks to them also. Especially do we appreciate the 4,000 stickers which Mr. Johnny of Story-Wright had printed for us.

There is one member of the Pow-Wow who does not get enough publicity and that is Knowles, our faithful janitor.

LaNell Reeves almost went home Thursday minus her shoes. O'Neal Weaver and Vanderslice threw them on top of the Teepee.

Jeanie Bailey and Ann Rowden are to be congratulated on their loyalty to the school. Besides, they brought a truck load of lumber bonfire before the Kilgore game.

In case you want to find anything out about ulcers, just see Charles Bowker.

Last Monday night, the TJC football team entertained (formally, that is) with the theme love best—food. A banquet was given them by Apache Belles by the Kiwanis Club at the stone Hotel. This is just Tyler business men of saying—You're a swell bunch, Apaches!

There are only less than two weeks remaining until Las Mascaras, the campus drama organization presents their first play of this semester. The entire production is based on a comedy brought to you by some of TJC's very talented actors and actresses. To make the play a success, every student should encourage his or her friends to attend and act as the jury. Meet at 8 at the High School Auditorium. See you there!

The San Souci sorority held the formal pledging ceremony, Tuesday night, November 20 in the lounge. After an impressive ceremony, were given their pins and now they are "bon members, no less."

Contributions are now being taken so that Browning can buy himself a sock. It seems Jimmy came to school one day last week without a "sockless."

Marjorie Truitt really has a winning way. Weaver carried her to the bus the other day. Freddie Whillock walked beside them and her books.

Published bi-weekly and distributed free to students.

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Harry Charles
Assistant Editor ..... Eugene Barron
Sports Editor ..... Polly Bothwell
Photographer ..... Ann Lynn Sadler
Columnists—Dwight Ewing, Ann Lynn Sadler, Ruth Tippit, Virgie Barron, Alice Ward, Pat Thomas, Thurston Koonce, Jimmy Cook, Rhealene Bryant, Girls' Activities Reporter ..... Ramona Zipt, Typists ..... Peggy Epperson, Fontaine Zipt, Exchange Editor ..... Jeffery Kamel, Robert Sports Writers ..... Miss

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager ..... Miss Sponsor ..... Miss

Sororities Hold Formal Initiation Of Pledges

Banquet Follows To-Kalon Service

TJC Faculty Members, Students Assist In Last Week's Civic Theatre Production

By HARRY JENKINS

Formal initiation of the To-Kalon sorority was Tuesday night. Initiated were: Ann Rowden, Faye Barker, La Nell Reeves, Putman, June McCune, Mitchum, Pat Hitt, Gloria Kings. Delores Matheny, Joyce Marie, Mary Love Hayley, Hawk, Nela Greenhaw, Jo Fletcher, Rosie Cade, Char-Blair, Aldena Barton, and Lette Barnes.

During the pledge period, Ann was pledge president; Lette Blair, vice-president; Rosie Cade was reporter. "Best rats" by the sorority Charlotte Blair and Opal Mitchum. These two girls were Tuesday night and pre- engraved bracelets.

The formal initiation took place at the home of Ann Sisk under the supervision of Miss Johnnie Armstrong, sponsor, and Mrs. E. C. Casey, sorority mother. Mrs. Casey and Miss Armstrong were present with corsages.

The banquet followed immediately after the initiation. It was in the Tropical room of the hotel. Steak dinners were served by both new and old members.

After the exchange of gifts between big and little sisters, a new sister was heard commenting, "The pledge period will always be a fond memory for me." The Student Union building will be the scene of the annual Christmas dance for on the night of December 15. The "Alice in Wonderland" theme will be carried. This dance is being sponsored by the To-Kalon sorority.

Edwin Fowler and his orchestra will provide the music for dancing and according to him, the floor show is being planned.

Two TJC faculty members and one TJC student were included in the cast for last week's Civic theatre production of the comedy, "You Can't Take It With You."

Miss Leila Park's portrayal of the scatterbrained mother, Mrs. Sycamore, was received enthusiastically by the audiences.

Mr. Edwin Fowler played "Ed" an uninhibited young man who made up for his lack of intelligence in his passion for playing the clarinet. His was one of the most humorous roles in the play. Laughter filled the hall after entirely all his lines.

Carlene Little, a freshman from Mineola, was cast as Alice, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sycamore, who found difficulties in living in the irregular household. Her part was convincing as well as amusing and she was received appreciably by the patrons.

"You Can't Take It With You" is the story of a middle class American family during the 1930's who appears to have found pleasure in living although they do keep snakes in the living room and doughnuts and tomatoes for supper.

Other faculty members, including Mrs. Byron Saunders, Mrs. Harold Stringer, and Miss Elizabeth Bryarly, assisted in various non-productive aspects of the play.

TJC students who acted as ushers were James Tunnell, Harry Jenkins, Charles Langford, Carol Inabnet, Jean Hill, Charles Bowker, Ramona Johnson, Billie Norton and Dorothy Carl.

Now I lay me down to sleep
The lecture's dry, the subject deep.
If, he should stop before I wake;
Give me a poke for goodness sake.

—Newport, Va., Beacon.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

New Members Of Phi Theta Kappa For Fall Term Begin Pledge Period

By JIMMY COOK

Phi Theta Kappa held its fall pledge service Tuesday night, November 14. The pledges were Othelia Dorn, Ernest Dean, and Doris Upton. The skits, given by the pledges, were followed by the formal pledge service after which the "worms" served the members refreshments. Ernest Dean and Doris Upton portrayed Ma and Pa Kettle while Othelia Dorn pantomimed her actions at a football game on a cold winter night.

The pledging period will last for four weeks. Sometime during the fourth week a combination formal initiation and Christmas banquet will be held. At this time the "worms" will become formal members of the fraternity.

The annual student directory published by the Phi Theta Kappa is in the final stages of preparation. The tentative press date has been set as Monday, November 26. The directory should be ready for distribution before the Christmas holidays. It will sell for ten cents a copy.

Committees working on the student directory as follows:

Ads: Jimmy Cook, Dwight Ewing, Marshall Moseley, and Jimmy Starkey, Marshall Moseley, Jean Hill, Barbara Shaw.

General Chairman in charge of coordinating the committees is Jimmy Cook, President.

Mr. Matthews Speaks To FTA

The TJC chapter of the Future Teachers of America met Tuesday for its second meeting since its organization. After a short business session, presided over by President Alfred Smith, a program on parliamentary procedure was presented.

Mr. Wayne Matthews, a lawyer and a member of the faculty, spoke on various points of parliamentary procedure, and conducted an open forum discussion afterwards.

Mrs. Carl Wallace is the sponsor of the group.

Student Council Allocates Funds

At a student council meeting last Tuesday morning student funds were allocated as follows: The Pow-Wow—20 per cent, Drama and Speech department—20 per cent and Phi Theta Kappa—3 per cent.

The policy was established for all other organizations who have to present the Student Council with an itemized statement of the needed funds in time for the Student Council to rule on the funds before the planned

The Student Council Expresses Apology

The student council, on its knees, asks the forgiveness of the student body for the cancellation of the Thanksgiving dance last Saturday night.

LET'S EAT
AT
K. TOMLINSON
CAFE

Where the Flavor

K.

12 New Members In Sans Souci

Formal initiation of Sans Souci Sorority pledges was held Tuesday night, November 21. The Women's lounge was the setting of the candlelight ceremony. Gold and purple, the sorority colors, were carried out in the decorations.

The pledges were told their duties as new members, and each then signed the members' book. The big sister of each pledge pinned the Sans Souci Sorority pin on the pledge's dress.

A reception followed the formal initiation.

The new members are Marilyn Pope, Beverly Beall, Edwina Culver, Charlotte Denman, Mary Ellen Watson, Carlene Little, Mary Helen Hale, Virginia Angelo, Ann Collins, Dila Shaw, Delores Hawkins, Nancy Hardee, and Polly Bothwell.

All members attended, including Mrs. J. Byron Saunders, co-sponsor. Miss Leila Park is also co-sponsor, Jean Heard is president of the sorority.

Plans are now being made for a Christmas party.

Former Apache Bill Bates Makes Good At University

Ex-student Bill Bates has made himself well-known for his art plus many other talents. He is a senior at the University of Texas and is now a cheerleader for the Longhorns.

The following is an article written about him which appeared in a Houston paper.

By HORACE AINSWORTH

"A bullheaded man and a red-headed boy have teamed up on a new angle to the old working-your-way-through-college routine.

"After bulling through one year of college, the red headed boy, Bill Bates of Tyler plans to try the scheme again this fall.

"The bullheaded man who is putting Bates through school is his own creation—a cartoon mascot of the University of Texas.

"Bates originated the character soon after arriving on the University campus last year. He wanted a character that would be easily recognized as a Texas student. As this symbol he struck on "Bevo."

"Bevo has been a traditional Texas Longhorn mascot—off and on—since 1916. The first Bevo was humiliatingly branded by the Aggies, served to a victorious Longhorn football team, honored by having his head hung in Gregory Gym, and again humiliated when the Aggies sawed his horns off.

"Bates, impressed with Bevo's gallant service to the University, readily adapted him as his cartoon symbol, giving him a man's body so that he could work into real life situations and still carry out the ideal of a mascot.

"When Bates showed a few cartoons to the editor of the university paper, he had a job. The editor wanted a "Bevo every day."

"Bates complied, showing Bevo struggling with exams, housemothers, the university housing shortage, and especially university football rivals.

"But drawing for the Daily Texan was taking up a lot of his time, and giving him no pay. Bates decided to look for a job as an artist.

"Bevo pulled the trick. Taking his cartoons and other art works as examples, Bates got a job with an Austin publishing firm. He paid for his first year at the University by designing, invitation, illustrating programs, and drawing newspaper layouts, making as much as $300 a month. Besides this, he donated his services as staff cartoonist to the Texas Ranger, student magazine, and the Daily Texan.

"Bates' most recent achievement brought national recognition of his ability. He designed a poster publicizing the Catholic Pilgrimage to Rome last summer. It was distributed throughout the United States, Mexico and Canada.

"Bates wants to work on a magazine or in the advertising field when he finishes college.

"Till then, he will rely on his bull-headed friend for support."

Dad's

Apaches To Meet Compton Tartars; To Play Wharton In Texas Rose Bowl

Wharton Junior College will be the opponents of the Tyler Junior College Apaches as they meet in the fourth annual Texas Rose Bowl game. In the meantime the Tylerites will play Compton tomorrow night at Rose Stadium.

Wharton is reported to have a very good team and are ranked as number one junior college team in the nation. They have played several teams which the Redskins have met and have defeated them sometimes by a larger score than that the Apaches made.

The Rose Bowl game will be played next Saturday night at 8:00 p.m. at the Rose Stadium.

Tomorrow night will see two of the nation's top teams clash at Rose Stadium. A game which should run a close second to the Apache-Ranger tilt will match the Compton Tartars of Compton, California, against the TJC football squad.

The Tartars are scheduled to arrive this afternoon by plane, giving themselves a day to rest before game time at 7:30 tomorrow night.

The Tartars are a powerful team and few teams can beat them.

They will bring 47 gridders to Tyler, and out in California they are considered first class.

The coaching staff is large and experienced. An advisory back-field coach and former all-American from Michigan is Tommy Harmon. Their regular full time staff includes head coach Tay Brown, an all-American from Southern California; end coach Chuck Williams, and Harry Ritchie, former all-American guard at Colgate.

Star performer for the Californians is Carl Williams, one of eight Negro squad members. Williams weighs only 145 pounds and runs like a flash. He is one of 11 lettermen from last year's team, whose only loss was to the Black and Gold. Williams is also a native Texan and attended a Negro high school in Dallas.

The Tartars will be lacking in weight as they clash against the Apaches. Their defensive line averages 200 pounds while the Apaches is 207. The offensive lineup is even lighter with 184 pounds as the average weight.

The Tartars have met the Apaches twice. The first time was in the first Texas Rose Bowl when they won 20-19 and the second being last year when Tyler flew to Compton and smashed the Tartars 28-14, knocking them from the throne as king of JC football.

Tomorrow night's game will be well worth your time as these two top teams meet.

TJC's 1950-51 basketball team have been hard at work the past few weeks getting ready for game December 12. They are shown here at work out one day last week.

TJC Still Celebrating 14-6 Victory Over Kilgore College In Rival Game

"You're the most wonderful team in the world" is just one of the expressions heard as TJC mobbed the Apache gridders after their 14-6 triumph over Kilgore.

To quote Jim Dean, "The sweetest victory this side of heaven was safely tucked away in Apacheland today (Friday, November 17)."

The Black and Gold warriors undoubtedly played their best game of the season as they clashed against a Kilgore squad in Rangerland.

Kappa Sigma Lambda Fraternity Plans Rush Party Monday Night

Kappa Sigma Lambda Fraternity is having a rush party Brown Derby this Monday night. At the dinner, future plans of the fraternity will be discussed.

The following week a hay-ride for the fraternity members and special guests is planned. Also, candidates for fraternity sweetheart are being considered.

Officers have been elected for 1950-51. They are as follows: M. O. Bridges, president; Edwin Smith, vice-president; Harold Whitaker, second vice-president; Joe House, secretary and treasurer; and Jimmy Malone, sergeant-at-arms.

The pledges are: Billy Bagwell, Joe House, A. D. Doggett, John Murad, Anthony Kamel, Jimmy Malone, Sonny Kellie, Laminack, Dickie Allen, Porter, James King, and Jimmy Donald.

Monday, December 4, will be DeMolay Day. All officers will meet in the Legion Hall at 7:30 to confer. Officers and Degree candidates will meet in regular meeting at 7:00. All Masons are invited to the Legion Hall. There will be refreshments after the meeting.

—Pow-Wow Staff Photo.

Jean Heard is hard at work as she plans the 1950-51 APACHE. Jean is the editor of the yearbook while Harry Jenkins will assist her. Mrs. Edwin Fowler and Mr. Barrett are the sponsors.

DIAL 2-4651

215 N. SPRING

East Texas Chemical Co.

SERVING ALL OF EAST TEXAS
SANITARY CHEMICALS

This wonderful triumph resulted from many long hours on the part of the players and the coaches, plus a strong determination to win.

Steve Hughes, who has seen two defeats from the Rangers, made both tallies for the Apaches.

The first half was played in the middle of the field with the exception of a Ranger penetration to the Apache 7-yard marker.

The beginning of the third quarter saw the Braves steal ground to the Kilgore 20, a gain of 53 yards including a Beal-McGinty pass combination. However, Reed Quinn's fourth down drive fell short of another first by a few inches.

The Apaches' first break came on Kilgore's second down as Bobby Dennis pounced on Jack Honea's fumble.

Steve Hughes led the offense and crossed the double stripe on a quick opener. Wayne Stroud successfully converted.

The only Kilgore tally came in the last minute of the third period as George Riley scampered over with a pass from Ralph Reynolds. Richard Smith sped through the line to block the try for extra point.

With the score reading 7-6 for the Apaches, they took the kick and marched back sixty-five yards for last touchdown.

The Braves gained on every play. Hughes, Quinn, Stroud, and Barker rushed through the forward wall. Big Tom Beal caught a pass from Beal and brought the TD 33 yards. Four plays later, Hughes rushed through on another quick play to completely kill the Kilgore spirit. Stroud again converted.

Moments later Driscoll caught the Beal pass over the goal line and he was outside the end zone. Kilgore kept trying but to no avail. Their only other threat ended with the Apache 11 when Lavern stopped a fourth down try. The statistics show that it was Tyler's ball game all the way.

18	First Downs	8
243	Rushing Gain	155
108	Passing Gain	118
12	Passes Attempted	18
6	Completed	8
1	Intercepted by	0
0	Fumbles Lost	1
8	Punts	8
55.5	Punting Average	24.3
for 10	Penalties	2 for 20

BACK DILL'S

and Bar-B-Q

Hot Dog

Burgers

and